STUDENT INVOLVEMENT

PROGRAM AREAS

YIG is for anyone who wants to experience the responsibility of governing Missouri for a few days, together with hundreds of other students from across the state. Whether you are interested in law, politics, or the press, there is a role for you in YIG. Every student plays an important role, participating in one of these program areas:

- Civic Leadership Institute: All 8th grade students participate in this program area. They learn about and experience state government through various activities, such as bill writing, committee hearings, trying a case, and much more.
- Executive Branch: Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, and Attorney General fulfill the duties of their offices after being elected at the previous State Convention.
- Judicial: Students are exposed to the Missouri judicial process from participation in trials as attorneys and witnesses, to developing leadership skills through mentoring and serving as Judges in those trials. Students conduct mock trials before student judges, who after hearing the cases, issue decisions on each trial.
- Legislative: Senators and Representatives write, debate, and vote on legislation in committee hearings and in chambers, before sending passed legislation onto the Governor to be signed or vetoed.
- News Media: In Print Press, students develop story ideas, conduct interviews, and publish a multiple issue newspaper during the convention. In Video News, students cover events at the convention, develop stories, and broadcast a news show multiple times through the convention.

PARTICIPATION REQUIREMENTS

Missouri YMCA Youth In Government has established the following set of requirements for participants in the program:

1. Participants must be students in grades 8 – 12.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

OVERVIEW

Legislators debating bills in both the House and Senate chambers. The Governor threatening a veto. Reporters acting on a hot tip to break a big story. Judges considering arguments from youth attorneys during a mock trial.

Government as usual? Not quite. They are all students participating in one of the Missouri YMCA Youth In Government (YIG) State Conventions, held each November and December at the State Capitol in Jefferson City. It is the culmination of months of preparation by YIG delegations which have been meeting all fall to prepare for the three-day mock government session.

This experience is designed to familiarize students with the decision-making process at the state level. Since 1949, YIG has provided students with the opportunity to develop leadership skills and experience democracy. The YIG Model Government Program is a student-driven simulation of state government and political activities, which involves over 900 Missouri youth in grades 8-12. Beginning in the fall of each year, students come together in their local delegations to choose their roles and register appropriately with YIG. Throughout the fall, students work in their local delegations to prepare for the State Convention by completing the required work for each program area. All of this training and preparation culminates with the annual State Convention.

The program is most active from August to December, with meetings held regularly to prepare for the State Convention. It is essential that participants attend all of the events required of them in order to have a true YIG experience.

DELEGATION MEETINGS

The local delegation forms the basis for all other YIG activities. This is where students have the greatest opportunity for participation and education. The number of meetings will vary from delegation to delegation. Meetings may include training in specific programs, election of officers, mock debate or practice trials, preparation for elections, fundraising, guest speakers, and other activities. Each delegation should elect a delegation leader, with larger delegations possibly electing two leaders. Also, experienced students should serve as mentors to students who are new to YIG.

STATE CONVENTION

At the three-day YIG State Convention in Jefferson City, students create their version of state government under the guidelines of the Missouri Constitution. Legislators meet in committees and in the House and Senate chambers to debate legislation. Attorneys try their cases before student judges and engage in a moot trial competition. The entire event is covered by a student newspaper and a student television news program. Participants also engage in campaigns and elections for officers who will serve during the following year. YIG offers two State Conventions each fall, with delegations attending one. Please visit www.moyig.org for specific dates.

DISCIPLINE PLAN

COMMITTEE STRUCTURE

If an offense occurs at any time at or leading up to the State Conventions, a Disciplinary Committee will be established consisting of the State Director (non-voting), Program Committee Chairperson, three adult advisors and three students. The Chairperson only votes in case of a tie and all decisions are only recommendations to the State Director who makes the final disciplinary action decisions.

COMMITTEE ACTIONS

When a disciplinary incident occurs, the following steps will be followed:

1. The Program Committee Chairperson and State Director will speak to the offending student(s) and their delegation advisor seeking all details and any pertinent information on the incident and call all parent(s), if necessary.
2. The student(s) should be shown the Student Participation Agreement they signed, the published consequences they could receive, and the disciplinary procedures.
3. If it is felt further investigation is warranted, the Program Committee Chairperson will call together the members of the Disciplinary Committee and notify the offending student(s), their advisor(s), and any witnesses of the time and location of the meeting.
4. Offenses occurring outside of the State Convention may be addressed by the Disciplinary Committee by phone or email.

The Disciplinary Committee will use the following agenda for its meetings:

1. The Chairperson informs the committee of the details of the incident.
2. The Chairperson directs the questioning of the witnesses and the offending student(s), with the committee members asking for clarification or interjecting their own questions.
3. Witnesses are called into the committee session one at a time for their own statements.
4. Offending student(s) and their advisor(s) are called in for statements.
5. In the event that an advisor giving a statement is also a member of the Disciplinary Committee, s/he will not be allowed to participate in the session except to give a statement. No substitutes will take the advisor's place on the committee.
6. The committee discusses its options and thoughts, voting on a recommendation.

The State Director makes their decision and, along with the Chairperson, meets with the offending student(s) and advisor(s), and calls the parents to inform them of the decision, if necessary.
